

Demetra Fr. Sorvatzioti is an Associate Professor in the Law Department of the University of Nicosia and has been practising law since 1990, in Greece and as of 2005 in the Cypriot jurisdiction. She holds a Ph.D. in Criminology. She heads the Institute of Criminal Studies and Criminology and the Cyprus Center for Law and Justice (C.C.L.J) at the University of Nicosia and she has served as Head and Associate Head of the Law Department. She heads the board of the University of Nicosia for the joint Master of Criminal Law and Addictions with the Law School of Aristotle University. Dr. Sorvatzioti is member of and the advisory board of Fair Trials International, and member of the Crime Policy board of the Ministry of Justice in Cyprus. She is also official collaborator at the International Center of Comparative Criminology (CiCC) of the University of Montreal.

Her expertise is criminal law; evidence; criminal procedure; criminology and applied criminal justice. Her research areas are on comparative law; sentencing; evidence; drug offences & addiction; sexual offenders; social exclusion & criminal justice. Her most recent research is on sentencing drug addicted offenders and the Drug Treatment Court Model.

She has given lectures in Europe, Canada and the United States and she has participated in numerous international conferences. Her publications among others include: "The poverty of Justice"; "Sexual offenders: Crime and Sentence" with A. Magganas, Burden of Proof and L'intime conviction: Is the Continental Criminal Trial Moving to the Common Law, with A. Manson; "L'Intime Conviction' and the Principle of Legality"; "Poor migrants and effective legal representation in Criminal Cases via Legal Aid Scheme"; "The Drug Treatment Court Model Applied"; Gambling addiction as Fresh Evidence in a case of drug cultivation. Motive of Crime and Mitigating Factor for the Sentence.